

Indonesia offers peace parley help

JAKARTA UPI — Indonesia today offered to help arrange a Vietnam peace conference.

"Indonesia is prepared to lend its good offices and bring together parties concerned if enabling conditions exist," acting President Gen. Suharto said in his first state of the union address.

The general said one condition is "absolutely necessary" for his regime to arrange a Vietnam peace conference.

It is, he said, "the understanding by the parties engaged in the present war that the ending of hostilities is necessary and that the issue should be settled at the conference table." In his three-hour speech—his longest to date, Suharto also vowed that ousted ex-president Sukarno will never be returned to power in Indonesia.

He warned that anyone trying to "restore the old order will face our stern action."

Suharto, whose army smashed a Communist coup attempt two years ago and then gently pushed Sukarno from power also unleashed a fresh attack against Communist China.

In some of the sharpest words he has publicly used against Peking, Suharto said, "It is an established fact that the Chinese People's Republic directly supported the Communist coup."

"There is even proof that Peking is engaging in subversive activities directed against our present new order," he said.

Speaking after recent anti-Communist Chinese rioting in Indonesia, the general said, "the attitude of the Indonesian people against China is therefore fully understandable."

He said his regime "will not remain inactive" in dealing with Peking.

Big cities to be King's next targets

ATLANTA UPI — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. said Tuesday he will lead massive general strikes and demonstrations in the nation's big cities within the next four months.

King said his Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) is shifting its tactics and its targets to begin an assault on inequality in Northern urban areas.

The tactics, he said, will be devised at an SCLC staff meeting in about two weeks. King did not say where the meeting would be held.

The Nobel Peace Prize winner, speaking to the 10th anniversary convention of SCLC, said the new target will be the big cities rather than the rural South where the organization has worked much of the past 10 years.

The civil disobedience in America's cities "would have to begin this year," he told the convention in a stern speech on urban rioting, its causes and cures.

King said this summer's riots "were a Negro response that inequality will now be resisted to the death," and blamed them on "the policy makers of the white society." But he said he still was convinced that the Negroes, goals can best be attained through nonviolence.

"The tragic truth is that Congress, more than the American people, is now running wild with racism," King said.

Burden of tax boost may fall on business

WASHINGTON UPI — House tax-writers are beginning to chip away at President Johnson's proposed 10 per cent tax increase, apparently with the aim of shaping the measure so that more of the burden would fall on business.

Despite two long days of public arguments and private pressures, top administration spokesmen still have not sold members of the House Ways & Means Committee on the need for the proposed surcharge on personal and corporate income taxes.

But committee chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., reflecting the general Capitol Hill view that some kind of tax increase probably is inevitable, ordered Treasury officials to begin re-

Man is electrocuted

FORT WAYNE, UPI — James Martin, 25, Fort Wayne, was electrocuted at a highway construction project near here Tuesday afternoon when a metal pole he was holding swung against a high-tension power line.

Martin was dead on arrival at Parkview Memorial Hospital following the accident on the U.S. 30 bypass near here.

COMPOSER'S WORKS TO DPU — A large collection of music and orchestral scores belonging to the late Dr. Fabien Sevitzky has been given to DePauw University. Shown after receiving the trunk load of works from Mrs. Sevitzky during ceremonies on the campus are Norman J. Knights, left, assistant, to the president for planning and development, Mrs. Sevitzky, and Thomas Fitzpatrick, assistant professor of voice. Russian-born Dr. Sevitzky was a world renowned conductor and director, including 18 years as conductor of the Indianapolis symphony orchestra. He died last February in Greece at the beginning of a seven-week guest conducting tour of Greece and Yugoslavia. Dr. Sevitzky received an honorary doctorate from DePauw in 1940 in recognition of his contributions to the field of music. Mrs. Sevitzky, who now resides in Coral Gables, Fla., at one time taught harp at DePauw.

Two state remap plans submitted

INDIANAPOLIS UPI — The Indiana Legislative Council will get two congressional redistricting plans instead of one from a weary subcommittee which struggled in vain for a month to reach unanimous agreement.

Agreement was reached on 7 of the 11 districts, with only 2 in contention.

The two maps will go to the parent council, together with a report that the legislative leaders were expecting too much if they thought six Democrats and six Republicans could reach unanimous agreement when the politically divided legislature never did.

What comes next will be up to the council at its Sept. 6 meeting. Sen. Walter A. Baran, D-East Chicago, and Rep. Jack Smithman, R-Mooresville, co-chairmen of the congressional map committee, said at a news conference following Tuesday's meeting, that the 12-member subcommittee will meet again if they get new ground rules.

Smithman said the next meeting would be Sept. 11 unless "the council smacks our hands and says forget it." He was asked if he thought the subcommittee could reach agreement with more time and he answered "if everybody stays in good health, it would be hard to do."

Baran also said the subcommittee is stalemated unless the council changes its mandate for a unanimous agreement to one asking only for a plan which would get 51 per cent of the vote in the House and in the Senate. Indiana has no congressional law since the 1965 one was ruled unconstitutional by the federal courts.

Governor Branigin, who met Tuesday morning with the sub-committee, agreed to confer with the other two members of the State Election Board and set a deadline by which a special session must be held in order to avoid an at-large election of congressmen next year.

The governor renewed his pledge to call a special session whenever legislative leaders are ready to enact a congressional districting law. He said also that he would require no limitations on such a special session call.

The two maps made public, labeled "Republican Compromise" and "Democratic Compromise" show agreement on the 1st, 3rd, 4th, 7th, 8th, 9th, and 10th districts. The agreement was such a 50-50 compromise that each side would eliminate one existing district chairman. The maps would knock out 4th District GOP Chairman Robert E. Gates of Columbia City, by moving Whitley County to the 2nd, and 3rd District Democratic Chairman Ernest Bixel, Plymouth, by moving Marshall also to the 2nd.

The 11th and 5th were the only two districts in contention, but the 2nd and the 6th remained unsettled because of the lack of agreement on the other two. Sen. David Rogers, D-Bloomington, called the 2nd and the 6th "bystander victims" of the battle over the 5th and 11th.

No fronts exist in weather today

By United Press International
A rarity occurred in the weather today. There were no fronts.

A front is meteorological terminology for a boundary between contrasting air masses. When hot air presses against cold air, a front is created.

But the entire nation was warm today. No fronts meant that the weather maps were devoid of all those swirling lines that weathermen like to point at on television.

All weathermen could do was point at blank maps and talk about the absence of fronts.

Besides being warm the country was generally clear. The only shower activity occurred in a narrow line from Arizona to Minnesota.

Gov. Reagan scores political triumph

SAN FRANCISCO UPI — The balance of power in the California state Senate rested with Republicans for the first time in a decade today, and Gov. Ronald Reagan, a rising GOP star, savored a new political triumph.

Voters in this traditionally Democratic city turned out in record numbers in a special election Tuesday and gave to Reagan's Republicans the pivotal partisan vote in the upper House of the legislature.

The governor, a potential 1968 GOP presidential nominee, called it a "significant victory for the Republican party," and added:

"It will permit those of us in government to continue putting into effect our concept that government is the servant and not the master of the people."

Reagan welcomed Republican Sen.-elect Milton Marks, a municipal court judge and a former state assemblyman, to "our team in Sacramento."

Marks, 47, a moderate, amassed 106, 407 votes, 51.4 per cent, to defeat Democratic state Assemblyman John L. Burton, an outspoken Reagan critic.

DePauw alumni set two new fund drive records

Two new records were set by DePauw University alumni in their support of the college's 1966-67 alumni fund drive.

Announcement of new highs in the average gift and the number of $100 plus givers was made today by James N. Cook, secretary of alumni affairs.

A third near-record was recorded in total gifts, Cook reported. DePauw received total gifts during the last fiscal year from alumni in the amount of $205,943, the second highest total in the 27-year history of the annual effort. The sum was surpassed only by last year's record $216,185.

The report listed the average gift at $34.72, the number of $100 plus donors at 642 and total number of givers at 5,926. Approximately 35% of the university's alumni participated in the program. The national average of annual giving to all colleges and universities is approximately 21%.

Approximately $150,000 from the alumni fund proceeds this year has been earmarked to supplement instructional salaries. Nearly $60,000 has been set aside for student scholarships.

Cook said the 1966-67 alumni performance is particularly noteworthy since the college presently is conducting a concurrent multi-million dollar capital gifts program to which alumni are also adding substantial support.

Since the inception of the independent alumni fund program in 1940, total gifts of over $2.3 million have been made to DePauw University through this channel.

Action continues in Putnam Circuit Court

Action continued in the Putnam Circuit Court this week with additional defendants appearing on various charges Tuesday.

Paul Kilgore, 33, Cloverdale, pleaded not guilty when arraigned to an assault and battery affidavit signed by his wife.

Judge Francis N. Hamilton fixed his bond at $1,000 and set his trial for 9 a.m. on September 29.

Willard Adams, 30, Russellville, and George Stewart, 29, Ladoga, pleaded guilty to theft of $95 from the Sanborn Electric at Bainbridge on June 8.

Each was sentenced to serve one year at the Indiana State Farm.

The last six months of their sentences were suspended on certain conditions.

David Howlett pleaded guilty to a failure to provide charge.

Due to extenuating circumstances, the court withheld judgment and his cause was continued in general.

Canton violence leaves over 400 dead, injured

HONG KONG UPI — Fierce battles between rival gangs of Red Guards in the violence-racked city of Canton left more than 400 persons dead or injured, Hong Kong newspapers reported today.

Other reports from official Communist Chinese agencies made public a long-secret document on the dismissal of former defense minister Peng Teh-Huai, a Chinese Korean war hero now blasted as an enemy of party chairman Mao Tse-tung.

The streets of Canton, largest city in southern China, were littered with dead, travelers arriving in this British Crown Colony said. They said bodies were decomposing in the streets and had not been removed because "the struggle for power was so intense no one knew who had the authority to take action."

The travelers' reports of Mao's Red Guard fanatics on a rampage in Canton and other areas of southern China were published by the South China Morning Post and the Sing Tao newspapers.

"Lawless elements" went on a wild spree of killing, looting and arson and there were rumors that army units were enroute to Canton to restore order, the arrivals said.

They said one clash between rival Red Guard student gangs lasted three days last week.

More than 400 persons were killed or injured, they said.

The document detailing the ouster of Peng, one of the few military men appointed a field marshal before ranks were abolished, accused him of opposing the austere brand of communism that Mao was imposing on China in the late 1950s.

The document was a "decision" adopted by the Communist party Central Committee at its eight plenary session at Lushan, Kiangsi Province, in August, 1959.

Traffic toll 864

By United Press International
Indiana's 1967 traffic fatality toll stood at 864 today compared with 940 a year ago.

Charlotte Taylor, 71, Sarasota, Fla., was killed Tuesday night in a two-car collision at an intersection on Indiana 37 in southern Marion County. Police said she failed to stop at a stop sign and collided with a car driven by Larry Sachs, 26, Martinsville.

The trial started Monday morning.

After receiving the verdict, Judge Francis N. Hamilton sentenced both defendants to serve 1-5 years at the State Reformatory at Pendleton.

Members of the jury were Richard Jones, Norman Clark, Kenneth Pittman, Betty R. Cummings, Claude Johnson, Alfred Losen, Leo C. Wilson, William Adams, Halford Mercer, Glen W. Brantow, Ernest Earley and Donna E. Beaman.

Tito today was giving Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser a summary of the latest Syrian and Iraqi views on the situation. The 75-year-old Yugoslav leader spent the last three days conferring with Syrian President Nouruddin Al Atassi and Aref.

Tito was meeting Nasser in Alexandria before leaving in his private yacht for Yugoslavia. They were to have met in Cairo but 100-degree heat in the Egyptian capital forced relocation of their final round of talks to the famous Mediterranean city.

Al Ahran said Tito would send personal messages to Soviet leaders, the heads of other East European countries and the presidents of other nonaligned nations in addition to President Johnson.

Tito to send LBJ Mideast summary

Yugoslav President Tito will send President Johnson a "complete summary of the Arab leaders' views on the Mideast crisis" when the Communist leader completes his one-week tour of Arab capitals, the semi-official Cairo newspaper Al Ahran said today.

Iraqi President Abdel Rahman Aref opened the Baghdad conference of Arab economic ministers with the declaration Arabs "will not lay down their arms and are determined to seek revenge" against Israel.

The Arab economic chiefs were gathered to plot retaliation against the United States and other alleged "supporters of Israeli aggression" during the June 5-10 Middle East war.

"If we are to live with honor and dignity, we must use our strongest economic weapon in the battle," Aref told the ministers. He was referring to the Iraqi plan for a three-month stoppage of all Arab oil shipments to try to exhaust the supplies of Britain and West Germany.

In Jerusalem, Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban said reports of a United States-Russian accord on the Middle East crisis were unfounded. Eban said in a Radio Israel interview there was no reason to assume such an accord was in the offing. The Soviet Union has been the champion of the Arab cause.

The Israeli leader warned any accord, even between major powers, which was against Israeli's interests would not be considered binding.

Eban said Israeli-American cooperation would continue as long as Washington adhered to its five-point Middle East peace plan announced by President Johnson just before the U.N. General

Wants Navy order rescinded

WASHINGTON UPI — Rep. Richard Roudsbush, R-Ind., has called on President Johnson to "loudly and publicly" rescind an order forbidding Navy units to participate in rallies and parades demonstrating support for U.S. policy in Vietnam.

Roudsbush said Tuesday that what he called an "incredible document" sent to all naval district commanders was "a tragic proof" that the government was not supporting its fighting men. He quoted the order as saying, "In view of the political implications of this particular category of demonstrations, Navy support would be inappropriate."

Roudsbush told the House, "I for one would like to know just what 'political implications' are involved which forbid Americans in uniform here at home from indicating support for their brothers and sisters in uniform in Vietnam."

The complete order, read to the House by Roudsbush, said: "The recent anti-Vietnam policy demonstrations conducted throughout the country have produced reactions by veterans and patriotic groups in several areas. Rallies and parades are being staged by these organizations for the specific purpose of offsetting the peace rallies."

"Navy participation, such as speakers, bands and marching units, has been requested in a number of instances and can be expected to be requested in any future counter-demonstrations organized by these well meaning groups. In view of the political implications of this particular category of demonstrations, Navy support would be inappropriate."

An aide said Roudsbush received a copy of the order from a Navy officer who asked not to be identified.

Max Friedersdorf, Roudsbush's administration assistant, said the order may have been aimed at a series of demonstrations planned around the country Oct. 21-22 in support of U.S. policy.

Dear Friends:

I have been experimenting lately with chocolate fudge recipes (especially ones that call for marshmallows) and have found a fantastic way to make one batch of it into three different flavors with no extra pots, pans or effort.

Now listen to this:

Set aside three little cake pans to pour your batter in before you even start cooking your fudge. Line each pan with plastic wrap. (It will not stick to teflon.)

As soon as your fudge is ready to pour, put only one-third of it in the first pan.

Add three heaping tablespoons of dry powdered cocoa and one tablespoon of imitation brandy extract (cherry or orange flavors are also excellent) to the rest of the mixture. Stir it quickly until it completely dissolves and pour some more in the second pan. This will give you a DARK bitter-sweet fudge with a taste all its very own.

Now, you're left with one-third of your goodie. The last is the very best of all and will make such a great concoction that you'll wonder where your original recipe went!

Quickly sprinkle three big spoons (according to the size recipe you're using—I use a big one) of instant coffee on the remaining fudge. ADD NOTHING ELSE. Mix well and dump this into your last pan. You've got the most delicious bitter-coffee-sweets you ever shook a stick at.

You'll absolutely drool. Wonderful for after dinner desserts and at parties, too.

And think: Three different kinds of candies came out of one recipe with very little extra effort on your part. Try it next time.

I solved this one by hanging (or you can glue) a clothespin over my clothes dryer.

BOOTERY

Feminine Horizon

(By HORTENSE MYERS)

Indianapolis UPI — Miss Mary Jesse, who was something of a rarity as a woman banker and then became first woman president of the Indiana State University board of trustees, thinks the feminist movement is being overemphasized.

"Why differentiate?" she asked. "We all have the same objectives, men or women, and we will continue to work together to achieve our goals for Indiana State."

Her loyalty to ISU is not based on a diploma from the school whose board she now heads, and of which she has been a member since 1961.

"However, between my work on the board and members of my family who are alumni, I feel that it is my university, even though I cannot claim the advantage of being a graduate," she explained.

She is a graduate of Garrett

Theological Seminary. Her first career was as a church youth director and she continued in church work, becoming director of religious education in large city churches in Detroit, Flint and Jackson, Mich.

But her training in guidance and counseling opened the door to a job as trust officer of the Gary National Bank. She was the second woman executive of the bank. Someone suggested she may now be the first president of a state-supported university board of trustees in Indiana.

"I am not sure of the status of the honor," she said, "but whether I am the first woman elected as president of a state-supported institution board is not so important as the opportunity to serve the state in this capacity."

Miss Jesse was named to the ISU board by Gov. Matthew E. Welsh in 1961, when separate boards were created by the legislature to replace the former joint board for Indiana State and Ball State.

"My understanding is that the governor conferred with some of his friends, stating that he needed a woman appointee and wanted a Republican from Lake County," she said. "I was the fortunate appointee, for which I will be eternally grateful. There never has been a greater challenge in my life, except my own profession."

Honors are nothing new to Miss Jesse in her own profession. Currently she is "Hoosier Lady of the Year" for the Indiana Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs. She is a past president of the Indiana, BPW, and also has been president of the Gary BPW. She also is past regional vice president of the National Association of Bank Women, and has lectured frequently at finance forums on estate planning.

Since a university board of trustees has a heavy burden of financial administration, her bank job complements her service on the ISU board. Appointment of faculty and other university employees, fixing of salaries, determination of administration requirements and issuance of bonds for construction all are part of the board's work. "I accepted the presidency with a certain amount of fear and trepidation, as I am presently the only woman on the board," she said. "I am cognizant of the fact there may be differences as, for instance, there are areas in which men's experience and judgement may be superior. But there are other areas in which women may be superior, so why differentiate?"

Said ISU president Alan Rankin: "Miss Jesse combines intelligence, tact and patience with an interest in Indiana State that marks her as an ideal trustee."

on an administration bill to extend similar controls to sugar, coffee, livestock and livestock products.

The bill, significantly, did not include a provision to give the secretary of agriculture power to set margin limits for commodity traders.

The margin plan was attached to a similar bill which vanished quietly into an Agriculture Committee pigeonhole two years ago. Administration officials decided the bill's prospects would be far better without the controversial section.

In addition to giving the Agriculture Department's Commodity Exchange Authority regulatory powers over a number of non-regulated futures, the new bill also would:

—Give the department power to seek court injunctions to halt violations of CEA regulations designed to maintain fair and competitive trading in futures markets.

—Give the secretary of agriculture power to set minimum financial requirements for futures commission merchants, and to ban from futures markets any commission merchants or floor brokers "who are found unfit to engage in these activities."

Congressional aides said little or no active opposition to the bill had surfaced so far in view of the deletion of the margin-control section.

Hollywood News

HOLLYWOOD UPI — Raymond Burr is a presence.

Some stars are happenings. They come on like Fourth of July fireworks, loud and strong. Not Burr.

His deep set eyes, massive features and powerful physique say it all. Acting aside, audiences watch Burr because there is an inner violence that never surfaces. The effect is hypnotic. The long-time star of "Perry Mason" returns to television this season in "Ironside" for NBC.

Just as Burr was Perry Mason, he is Ironside, a police chief bound to a wheel chair. And as in the previous series, the new show relies on the force of Burr's personality more so than on action or story lines.

Burr has his own organization within the confines of the Universal production set-up. But his men are as quiet and effective as the boss himself.

The hour-long show requires its star to memorize more lines than the lead in a three-hour movie.

For this reason it is seldom jolly-boy time on the set. Burr spends most of his time between shots studying his script. He's up half the night memorizing lines.

But when the director is ready to shoot a scene, Burr is there, silently ready to perform, concentrating on the slightest nuance of the role.

Professionalism is what it is. But there's more, too.

Burr has made countless trips to Korea, and now Vietnam on person-to-person visits to fighting men in the lines.

He doesn't sing, dance or tell jokes. Out in the boondocks where American troops want someone to talk to—or to listen to—Burr is in his element. He's a man from home, the kind of man who represents stability and permanence.

He also believes in what they are doing individually and what this country is accomplishing in Vietnam.

So he's more than an observer, a curious actor trying to get his name in the news. Burr doesn't hold press conferences on his trips nor expound on the administration's policy in Vietnam.

"I go over there because I want to, and because I think the guys appreciate having someone to talk to," he says.

Georgia was named in honor of King George III in England.

YOKOSUKA, Japan UPI — The American nuclear-powered submarine Scamp arrived here Tuesday for a 10-day visit. Leftist groups planned to organize demonstrations against the ship.

The bidding:
South West North East
2♥ 2♠ 3♥ Pass
3♥

Opening lead—king of spades.
There is nothing extraordinary about a declarer playing in a contract that has almost no chance of success, but some of these so-called hopeless contracts can be made when there is exactly the right combination of luck and skill.

Here is a fine example of the combination at work. Considering his strictly limited resources, North should probably have passed two spades, but, since his voluntary raise resulted in making a slam, it is somewhat difficult to criticize him severely.

West led the king of spades and continued with the ace, and continued with the ace.

which South ruffed. At this point there was not much hope for the contract, but declarer played for whatever chance there was by leading a low heart to dummy and returning a club.

When East followed low, South inserted the ten, which held the trick. Once the double finesse had succeeded, South was well on the way towards making the slam. After drawing three more rounds of trumps and cashing the A-K of clubs, declarer arrived at this position:

North

West
♦ J ♥ J86
♠ Q94
♣ Q

East
♦ Q94
♥ Q
♠ Q
♣ A75

South now led the ten of hearts and West, who could not afford to part with the jack of spades, discarded a diamond.

Declarer thereupon discarded the spade from dummy and now East, who could not afford to part with the queen of clubs, also threw a diamond.

As a result, South won the last three tricks with the A-K-7 of diamonds, which seems to prove that North's three heart bid had more merit than is visible to the naked eye.

Two sets of brothers brawl; one found dead from wounds

INDIANAPOLIS UPI — Two sets of brothers battled in the cocktail lounge of a Holiday Inn Tuesday and one of the five men involved in the fracas was found dead when police arrived to quell the disturbance.

The body of Fred Saltzberg, 31, Milwaukee, was found leaning against the wall of a vacant banquet room in the motel located near Weir Cook Municipal Airport. He had a head wound which investigators said may have been inflicted during the brawl. They theorized he staggered injured from the bar into the American Heritage Room and slumped dead against the wall.

Arrested on preliminary charges of murder were Curtis Shoemaker, 38, Chesterland, Ohio, and his brother, Stanley, 30, Indianapolis. They were arrested when they showed up at General Hospital for treatment of cuts on Curtis' head.

Saltzberg's brothers, Leonard, 49, and Marvin, 41, both of Orton, Ill., also were involved in the disturbance, police said.

Officers said witnesses told them the Shoemaker brothers were sitting at the piano bar in the crowded lounge when the Saltzberg brothers came in. A fight occurred between Stanley Shoemaker and Marvin Saltzberg, but patrons broke it up. Police were called but the Shoemakers had left when they arrived. After the police departed, the Shoemakers returned but started to leave again when employees refused to serve them. As they walked out, the two who fought originally were involved in a second exchange, during which a chair was broken.

When police returned, the Shoemakers were gone and two of the Saltzbergs remained. A search for the third brother lasted 10 minutes.

Foreign News Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM

When West German Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger speaks of his country he does so in modest terms.

He says he knows and the West German people know that they no longer are a world power.

Nonetheless, he also knows that West Germany is the economic giant of Western Europe and because of its central location, no problem concerning Europe can be settled without German participation.

It is within this framework that he and his foreign minister, Willy Brandt, have been conferring this week with President Johnson in Washington.

In its nearly nine months in office the Kiesinger Coalition government of Christian Democrats and Socialists has made some sharp departures from the lines of West German foreign policy as originally laid down by the late former Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and modified by others.

The old Adenauer hard-line policies against the Communist countries to the east, which underwent modification under former Chancellor Ludwig Erhard, have switched sharply as Kiesinger and Brandt have sought their own openings to the east. Kiesinger is closer to French President Charles de Gaulle than was Erhard, his predecessor, but not as close as was Adenauer.

He has sought continued close ties with the United States but has made it clear these ties must serve common interests.

Kiesinger came into office on the waves of a growing economic crisis in which West Germany, the richest nation of Western Europe, suddenly found itself in the midst of a budget crisis which would leave it $2 billion in the red.

To meet the crisis, the decision in Bonn was to cut defense spending by $2.3 billion from a budget running from 1968 to 1971.

The result of this was another crisis, this time within Kiesinger's own cabinet, and a confrontation with Washington which was annoyed that it had not been consulted in advance and feared a reduction in West Germany's 465,000-man army in the defense structure of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).

On his side of the argument, Kiesinger also had a bone to pick.

This was over the U.S.-Soviet agreement on a treaty to prevent spread of nuclear weapons.

There is not much difference between the development of the nuclear weapon and development of the atom's power for peaceful purposes. Germany already had disavowed the nuclear weapon but saw in the U.S.-Soviet agreement an attempt to develop an atomic monopoly. In this she was not alone. Among others, Brazil had similar objections.

The Germans held that in this case, they should have been consulted in advance.

Kiesinger agrees with De Gaulle in a Europe stretching from the Baltics to the Urals. But he disagreed with him on methods. He also is coming to agree with De Gaulle on a fear of U.S. economic domination.

It all depends on where you sit. The Austrians fear the same thing of the Germans.

Picasso work is unveiled in 'Windy City'

By Leonard J. Fisher

CHICAGO UPI — The last veil was stripped from Chicago's 162-ton, five-story tall Picasso Tuesday.

To the strains of symphonic music, political oratory, hippies' bongo drums and pickets' lamentations, the City of the Big Shoulders got its first look at the monumental sculpture designed by Pablo Picasso, the Michaelangelo of modern art, and put together by bridge builders.

The airy steel structure in the plaza of the Civic Center, smack in the heart of the Loop, raised the question: What is it?

Some including most art experts—said it was a monumental woman's head. Others, less reverent, said it represented a baboon, a cow, a dodo bird, or, in the words of Ald. John J. Hoellen, "five stories of boilerplate."

To the pickets who paraded before the unveiling, it was a "Communist plot." Picasso has said he is a Communist, "a colossal booboo," "an insult to Chicago's greatness."

To President Johnson, who sent greetings, it was "another historic first for the city beautiful... you have demonstrated once again that Chicago is a city second to none."

Mayor Richard J. Daley, who has emerged as the staunchest defender of modern art in Chicago's City Hall, said the city should be grateful for the gift of the Spanish master.

The mayor, hitherto acknowledged as a connoisseur of the Chicago White Sox, made a game stab at pinning down what the gift was. He acknowledged that the giant work had developed "a dialogue and difference of opinion," but added: "But it seems to me that Picasso, who has been called the greatest of living artists, gave us the surest clue as to what this sculpture should mean to us. He said he was making a gift in tribute to the vitality of Chicago."

To meet Friday

INDIANAPOLIS UPI — The Indiana School Reorganization Commission will meet Friday to consider a request for inclusion of Brownstown and Salt Creek Twp. of Jackson County in one school unit.

Chairman Bryce Bottom said backers of the plan hope to have it approved in time for this school year beginning in September.

"I understand the Salt Creek township trustee hasn't hired any teachers yet and expects them to be channeled into the Brownstown school system," he said.

WENT FOR A TRAIN RIDE — The children of the St. Andrew's Episcopal Church Headstart group went to Crawfordsville via the Monon Railroad Tuesday and then returned by bus. It was the first train ride that the children had ever taken. They were accompanied by their adult leaders in the program. Not pictured are the Headstart children of the Commercial district who also made the trip.

Prison dispute rift widens

INDIANAPOLIS UPI — A shocking statistics compiled by UPI showed today that one of every 20 persons dead in Indiana traffic this year has been killed on perilous U.S. 41.

This really is no new role for the deadly route between Chicago and Evansville via Terre Haute. It has long been labeled a "killer" highway, and if every fatal accident spot in the last 20 years were marked with the Indiana State Police traditional white cross, the road would look like a driveway through Flander's Field.

Contributing factors to the fact that 43 fatalities have been recorded on that highway since Jan. 1 are that it is one of the longest, if not the longest, federal highways in Indiana, and that it is among the state's most heavily traveled routes.

But one of the basic reasons surely must be that the record, despite millions of dollars which have been poured into it in new construction and improvements over the years, there are far too many miles of two-lane stretches where in this modern motorized age four-lane pavement should be.

Highway dollars spent by Uncle Sam and the State of Indiana never seem to stretch far enough to finish the work that needs to be done on this lethal route to take the poison out of its string, although highway department officials devote sizable chunks of their construction allocations to this and other highways with bad records.

U.S. highways—about 25 of them, including the interstate network—have killed about 35 per cent of all Indiana's traffic victims thus far this year, a share under 300 of the more than 850 on the death list.

Another killer is U.S. 31, where 34 have perished this year. Like U.S. 41, highway 31 is a north-south route of considerable length.

Other deadly highways are U.S. 30 from Fort Wayne to Lake County, with a toll of 25 this year, and U.S. 20, which roughly parallels the Northern Indiana Toll Road, where 20 have died.

One of every three of this year's fatalities have occurred on the U.S. highways. Even the interstates, where safety standards are greater and most hazards are eliminated in the engineering phase of the pro-

The state's only toll road has been the scene of 10 fatalities this year, I-65 has accounted for 11, I-74 for six, I-80 for at least six, I-465 for five, and I-69 for 2.

Other U.S. highway dead include U.S. 35-18; U.S. 231-15; U.S. 24-15; U.S. 40-11; U.S. 50-10; U.S. 52-10; U.S. 421-10; U.S. 460-8; U.S. 33-6; U.S. 150-5; U.S. 27-4; U.S. 36-4; U.S. 12-6; U.S. 136-4; U.S. 6-2.

Nearly as many have been killed on the U.S. and interstate highways since June 1 as were killed on those roads through the first five months of the year.

The history of each road is different, however. On some, the preponderance of the deaths have occurred on the "safest" stretches.

On U.S. 41, where 9 of the 29 accidents resulted in multiple fatalities, the Jan. 1-May 31 period accounted for 24 deaths and the June 1-mid-August period 19. On the other hand, U.S. 31 had only 13 fatalities in the earlier period and 21 this summer and actually has a worst toll since June 1 than U.S. 41.

Boy, 14, gets bravery medal

INDIANAPOLIS UPI — Governor Branigin awarded the Indiana Youth Medal for Bravery to a 14-year-old Michigan City boy, Tuesday.

Lawrence Richmann, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Richmann, was 13 when the act of bravery which earned the annual award occurred June 13, 1966.

He saved the life of Robert Sutherland, 16, who was drowning in a private swimming pool. Larry dove into the pool and brought the unconscious boy to the surface where he again made a second decision which may have made the difference between life and death.

He noticed that the unconscious boy was bleeding from his mouth, so he used a back-pressure method of artificial respiration instead of mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

The award was developed on a national basis, so Governor Branigin will nominate the Indiana winner for the Young American Medal for Bravery, to be determined by the Department of Justice.

Committee ok's postal increases

WASHINGTON UPI — The House Post Office Committee approved a penny increase in the cost of mailing a letter or a postcard.

The committee accepted a subcommittee's recommendation that the first-class letter rate be raised from a nickel to 6 cents but rejected the group's recommendation to raise postcards to the same level. It approved a raise from four cents to five cents.

The committee vote was 12 to 11 on holding the postcard increase to a penny.

Rep. Joe R. Pool, D-Tex., proposed that the five-cent stamp not be increased and P. Morris K. Udall, D-Ariz., proposed a two-cent increase.

By voice vote, both were rejected and the action was interpreted by Chairman Thaddeus J. Dulski, D-N.Y., as approval of a one-cent increase in the five-cent stamp and no separate vote was taken.

The committee is expected to take up on Wednesday a subcommittee proposal to increase the air mail rate from eight to 10 cents.

Dudley memorial being considered

INDIANAPOLIS UPI — Governor Branigin has directed Indiana's state parks director to meet with the widow of famed Dunes painter Frank V. Dudley to discuss plans for a state memorial honoring Dudley.

Branigin said he believes the Dudley cabin in the Dunes State Park would be a possible site for the memorial. Dudley, who was 88 when he died in 1957, acquired the cabin before the land was taken into the park, and the Dudleys retained its use during their lifetime.

The widow, who lives in Chicago and is now 96, replied to a letter from Branigin suggesting the memorial, saying it was "more gratefully accepted than we are able to express."

He husband paid the rent on the cabin after it was acquired by the state for the park with an original painting each year. The paintings, now considered valuable, had been scattered among various state departments and agencies, but are being collected for an exhibit featuring Dudley in the Indiana State Museum.

Branigin's idea was to remodel the Dudley cabin in the Dunes, if this is feasible, so the paintings may be permanently exhibited as a memorial to Dudley. The cabin is located in a portion of the park dedicated to preservation of the dunes, according to the park director, Joseph A. Blatt.

One of the problems to be solved is whether the cabin can be fire-proofed and humidity-controlled to meet the requirements for an art museum.

Quarterback club kick-off dinner August 30

Anticipating a record high membership during the 1967 gridiron season, the Greencastle Quarterback Club will kick off its dinner schedule Wednesday, August 30, in the Memorial Student Union building.

According to Larry Goodhue, spearheader of the current membership drive, the club's strategy committee this summer voted to lower membership fees to $1.00, a 67% cut from last year's fee when over 100 Greencastle area men joined the group.

"We reduced the membership fee," Goodhue said, "as a one-year experiment. Our aim is to swell the organization by offering a membership that everyone will support."

"While we are interested in raising money through the fees to sponsor the high school team's trip to a Big 10 game, to pay for equipment at GHS, and to make a gift to DePauw's scholarship fund, we're mainly concerned at this point with getting more men in the club. That's why the membership fee has been made so attractive."

"It may be that we won't be able to sponsor as many projects this year, but it also may be that our membership will really soar. And that's what we're after—more community interest in high school and college football."

The four-date schedule set for this fall by the Quarterback Club has been tentatively completed. The opener will be the dinner at the Union at 6:15 p.m. August 30—two days before the high school's opening game and five days after the DePauw team reports to campus.

The remaining events are a smoker-dinner Sept. 27 at the Union, a dinner at the high school prior to the Sullivan game Oct. 20, and a pre-Wabash-DePauw dinner Nov. 8 at the Union. All programs except the smoker will be open to Quarterbackers' wives.

The QB programs generally conclude by 8:30 p.m. They normally feature remarks (sometimes serious, sometimes humorous, depending on how the preceding week's game turned out) from head coaches Bob Bergman, GHS mentor, and Tom Mont, head coach at DePauw.

After their comments the coaches answer questions from the floor and alternate narrating films from the previous game. A special guest already scheduled for the 1967 program is Wabash College's new head coach Max Urlick who will share the platform with Bergman and Mont.

Memberships in the Quarterback Club may be obtained by sending $1 with your name to the Greencastle Chamber of Commerce Office or by dropping $1 by the office at 14 S. Indiana, just off the square. Memberships also may be obtained at the Aug. 30 dinner.

Ortiz and Laguna meet tonite in Shea stadium

NEW YORK UPI — Lightweight champion Carlos Ortiz and Panamanian challenger Ismael Laguna are rated even by the oddsmakers, but each fighter is predicting a knockout victory tonight in their title bout at Shea Stadium.

And everybody — the fans, promoter, athletic commission and police — might be rooting a little extra that a kayo will occur to minimize any differences of opinion over who actually won.

"I expect to knock him out early," said the Puerto Rican champion. "He's only a mediocre puncher. He's fast, but with my experience I expect to slow him down."

The 24-year-old Laguna commented, "I will wear him down and stop him around the 10th or 11th round. He can't keep up with me."

When the fans disagreed with decisions involving the last two losses by Puerto Rican fighters at Madison Square Garden, they resorted to bloody, bottle-throwing outbursts. The possibility of a similar disturbance tonight almost has overshadowed the fight itself.

Chairman Edwin Dooley of the State Athletic Commission asked for city police to help maintain order for the bout, but he was turned down by Police Commissioner Howard Leary, who said he didn't understand why the bout was sanctioned in the first place.

The Garden promoters, who are staging their first outdoor fight in 10 years, have assured fans that "more than adequate" security precautions will be taken.

A delegation of 2,000 Panamanians came here to cheer Laguna to victory, but the crowd will be mainly composed of Puerto Ricans. About 25,000 fans are expected to pay $175,000 to watch the fight.

This will be the third meeting between Ortiz and Laguna. The Panamanian won the title from Ortiz in April, 1965, at Panama City but lost it back seven months later at San Juan.

Tiger arrives next week

NEW YORK UPI — Lightweight champion Dick Tiger will be expected to answer some key questions when he arrives in this country from Nigeria within the next two weeks.

Tiger, who has been ordered to defend his title against Roger Rouse before midnight Wednesday, undoubtedly will get an extension but it will still be unclear when he will be in condition to fight. Las Vegas, Nev., has been regarded as the most likely site of the bout.

Tiger may recently have been preoccupied with the revolt of the eastern region of Nigeria, which is trying to establish itself as the independent country of Biafra. Tiger strongly supported the rebellion and said he wants to be called a Biafran instead of a Nigerian.

Cardinals crush Cubs 6-4; jump into 10½ game league lead

Julian Javier says he isn't counting his World Series money yet. But he doesn't have to—the rest of the National League is about ready to do it for him.

Playing with the typical abandon that has marked the Cardinals' recent surge, Javier ignored the pain in his badly bruised hip and thigh Tuesday night to leg out a two-run triple and spark the Cards to a 6-4 triumph over the Chicago Cubs.

The victory was the 17th in 21 games for St. Louis since they were tied for first place with the Cubs on July 25, and left the Cardinals a whopping 10½ games out in front.

Javier has sported a big, ugly lump on his right hip since spring training and has added a bruise on his right thigh recently.

"I'm not counting the money yet. Next month after we come back from our road trip we'll know whether to count the money," he said after the victory.

But the caution shown by the veteran second-baseman is far from justified. Even if the Cards play only .500 ball from here on out, second-place Atlanta would have to play at .750 to steal the pennant.

In fact the 1967 National League is such a pale shadow of years past that the best that can be said for it is that there's a torrid six-team battle going on for the runner-up spot.

The Cardinals, whose victories now seem as inevitable as the Yankees' used to be, were lagging behind the Cubs 2-0 going into the bottom of the sixth Tuesday. But Javier's triple, an error and run-scoring singles by Orlando Cepeda and winning pitcher Ray Washburn amounted to a five-run inning and the 17th loss in 25 games for the Cubs since they were tied for the league-lead three and a half weeks ago.

Elsewhere in the National League San Francisco whipped Atlanta 4-1, Philadelphia swept a doubleheader from New York 3-2 and 7-5, Cincinnati squeezed past Pittsburgh 2-1 and Houston topped Los Angeles 2-1 in 12 innings.

In American League action, Minnesota strengthened its lead with a 4-0 triumph over California, Chicago took the first of two games from Kansas City 4-2, but dropped the nightcap by the same score, Baltimore downed New York 11-10 in 13 innings, Cleveland stopped Washington 3-0 and Boston blanked Detroit 4-0.

The Braves, who would have to win 36 of their remaining 48 games to overhaul a Cardinals playing at .500, lost more ground Tuesday when Jim Hart slammed a two-run homer, his 27th of the year, and Gaylord Perry hurled a five-hitter.

Perry, who won his ninth in 23 decisions, scored a run himself after a fifth-inning single and got more offensive support from Ty Cline who collected three singles and a triple and scored twice.

The Reds, who Orlando Cepeda says are the team the Cards must watch because of their good pitching, got a five-hit effort from Mel Queen and Ted Abernathy and scored their winning run in the eighth when Tony Perez doubled home Vada Pinson. But if St. Louis wins only half its remaining games, Cincinnati must play at a .773 clip to make the series.

The fifth-place Phillies, who would have to take 38 of their final 49 games to whip a .500 Cardinal team, got a 12th-inning homer from Bill White to win the opener and stopped the Mets in the nightcap with a triple play and a total of eight hits from Tony Gonzalez, Richie Allen and Johnny Callison.

Claude Osteen set the pattern by retiring the first 12 Astros and Houston starter Bruce Von Hoff replied by shutting out the Dodgers on four hits in his first eight innings of work as a major leaguer, as both clubs remained scoreless until the 11th.

Houston won it in the 12th when rookie Doug Radar ripped a double down the right field line that scored Joe Morgan from first.

Amateurs have eyes on upset at state open

SOUTH BEND UPI—A stellar field of professionals and an upset-minded bunch of amateurs set out Thursday for the Indiana Open Golf championship which the simon-pures haven't captured since 1961.

Defending champion Bob Hamilton of Evansville heads the pros in this 72-hole grind over Erskine Park's acres.

A field of nearly 150 was announced, but only the low 60 and ties go the final 36 holes Saturday and Sunday. The winning pro will pocket $1,000.

Hamilton, a former National PGA titlist, won his third State Open crown at Speedway last year with a 295 total. Among his closest rivals were expected to be former winners Ed Kynch of Fort Harrison, Don Essig of Indianapolis and Jim Shaw of here, along with former state amateur king Terry Winter of Lafayette.

Also not to be discounted were Jim Guinnup of Lafayette, the reigning Indiana PGA champion, and Bill Heinlein of Carmel, who has won the crown four times.

Bill Newcomb of Royal Center was the last amateur to grab the title six years ago, but for awhile the play-for-fun enthusiasts more than held their own against the pros — among them Dale Morey, Joe Campbell and Sam Carmichael. Campbell and Carmichael turned pro some years ago, however.

South Bend may furnish the strongest contingent of amateurs—among them Ron Royer, runnerup for the state amateur crown last year; 4-time city titlist Jim Vitou, and Dave Laffin.

Another upstate hopeful was Rick Sultor of LaPorte, the current state junior titleholder.

Morales re-ups with Indians

INDIANAPOLIS UPI — Shortstop Rich Morales was to rejoin the Indianapolis Indians of the Pacific Coast League today in San Diego.

Morales was optioned to the Indians Tuesday night by the parent Chicago White Sox who had called him up to the American League team about 10 days earlier.

At the same time, the White Sox transferred shortstop Marv Staehle's option from the Indians to Jacksonville of the International League. Staehle, called up earlier by the White Sox, had been sent to the Indians as a replacement for Morales. Staehle was to report to Jacksonville today.

SHELL LAKE, Sask. UPI — Authorities had neither a motive nor a suspect today in the slaughter of nine members of a well-liked farm family. Only a little girl survived.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police ruled out murder-suicide: The .22 caliber weapon used in the cold blooded slayings was not found. Robbery was discounted as a motive: The victims' white, four-room farmhouse had not been ransacked.

Killed were James Peterson, 47, who lived all his life in the area on the edge of the Canadian wilderness; his wife, Evelyn, 42, and seven of their eight children ranging in age from one to 17.

Four - year - old Phyllis survived. She was found sleeping between the bodies of two of her small sisters.

Authorities said Phyllis frightened and confused, told them three, different stories about the events she probably witnessed.

An aunt and an uncle who live nearby took custody of the terrified child. The Petersons also had a married daughter not living at home.

The bodies were found Tuesday morning by a neighbor,

Wildrew Lang, who had come to the farm to help Peterson clean his grain bins. Not seeing anyone at first, Lang said he thought it would be a good joke to roust Peterson out of bed. He figured the farmer had overslept.

Lang said he went onto the porch and opened the kitchen door. He found Peterson sprawled just inside the door. Mrs. Peterson's body, the corpse of her year-old son Larry clutched to her bosom, was found outside an open window. Authorities believe the mother jumped through the window in a vain attempt to save herself and the child. The other six children—Jean, 17, Mary, 13, Dorothy, 11, Pearl, 9, William, 6 and Collin, 2—were dead in their beds.

Lang drove the Peterson's station wagon to Shell Lake, a community of 300 persons four miles away, to report the murders.

No clues in murder of farm family of nine

Sponge Scorch Off

Did you know that you can sponge a scorch off white shirts with a piece of cotton which has been soaked in peroxide? You will find it comes off easily and leaves no residue, and the iron does not make another stain as you re-iron it.

Instant Dissolve

When preparing your favorite gelatin just pour a cup of boiling water into your electric blender, add gelatin. Flick the blender on and off quickly a few times. Add other liquid and any ingredients to be chopped. A few more flicks of the blender and the job is done.

Odorless Cabbage

Place a heel of bread on top of cabbage before putting the lid on the pot and cooking it. There'll be no odor. The bread has no effect on the cabbage and should be removed after cooking. Good for broccoli and Brussels sprouts, too.

Wash and tear lettuce for your salads and place in a bowl lined with paper napkins or towels. Place another napkin on top. Set in refrigerator for at least one hour before serving. The excess moisture will be absorbed by the napkins. Your lettuce will be crisp.

Don't you wish it were Springtime again?

Belgian influence nears end after eighty years

BRUSSELS UPI — Eighty years of Belgian influence in the Congo neared an end today following the sacking of the Belgian embassy in Kinshasa by Congolese rioters who also attacked two Americans and stoned the U.S. embassy.

A phaseout of Belgium's $90 million annual aid to its former colony would leave the United States, currently contributing $50 million a year, as the mainstay of the tottering Congolese economy.

In Washington, the State Department said the rioters threw rocks through the windows of the American embassy but stressed the outburst appeared directed mostly against the Belgians.

State Department spokesmen said two Americans who lived next door to the Belgian embassy, U.S. Air Force M. Sgt. Homer L. Paulhus and his wife, were beaten by rampaging Congolese who invaded their apartment. Neither was reported seriously hurt.

"After today we have no illusions about our role in the Congo," a high Belgian government official in Brussels said after the estimated 2,000 rioters had set fire to the embassy's furniture and files and toppled a statue of Belgium's King Albert, the nation's hero of World War I.

The state outside the Congolese Parliament had survived seven years of often-violent independence turmoil during which more than 400 Belgians have been murdered. The rioters quickly covered the fallen monument with black cloth.

The 2,000 youthful Congolese were members of president Joseph Mobutu's popular revolutionary movement, the Congo's only legal political party, and were protesting the capture of the Congo town of Bukavu last week by white mercenary-led Katangese rebels.

A Woman's View

(By GAY PAULEY)

NEW YORK UPI — You name the product and some woman of the house can offer a way to improve it.

So manufacturers, packagers and retailers, take note of a new list of "Why don't they?" offerings. Some come from one woman's weekend of "catching up" at the house, others are from friends, still others from that ever-busy panel called National Family Opinion, Inc., of Toledo, Ohio. The last is a market research firm which continually surveys 90,000 homemakers on assorted consumer problems.

Why don't they make rug material? Two weeks of my own carpets at the cleaners and the best quality padding I could find is a shambles.

Why don't they?

—Put heat resistant plastic zippers in garments that are frequently washed and ironed.

—Package flour similarly to the way sugar is packaged to eliminate spilling.

—Use fabrics that will last for garment linings. Most linings go long before the dress, meaning a major sewing job on relining.

—Hem sheets the same at each end so they can be changed around for longer wear.

Cadou's Column

By Eugene J. Cadou

INDIANAPOLIS UPI—President Johnson's lowest popularity, disclosed in recent polls, has increased the under-cover trend of Indiana Democrats to go it alone in the 1967 and 1968 election campaigns.

The Hoosier leaders tell you privately that the national administration was largely responsible for their defeat at the polls last year and threatens to cause additional losses in the next two elections.

How to pursue such an independent policy gracefully—and it is no easy task—is sure to be discussed during the fall meeting of the Indiana Democratic Editorial Association at French Lick on Aug. 25 and 26.

However, Sen. Vance Hartke already is embarked on policies antagonistic to those of President Johnson. He is so confident of success of a program of that nature that he several times has predicted that the President will not run next year and that the nominee will be Vice President Hubert Humphrey.

Humphrey probably will attempt to minimize that feeling and to bolster the President when he comes to Indiana Sept. 1. He will help Methodist ministers pay tribute to Bishop Richard C. Raines at the School of the Prophets, annual refresher training program for the Methodist clergy at DePauw University in Greencastle.

Bishop Raines, who is retiring next summer, and the vice president became close friends when the minister was pastor of a Minneapolis church and Humphrey was mayor of that city.

But Humphrey will spend several hours in Indianapolis later in the day during which he is slated to confer with Hoosier civic and business leaders, and probably with Indiana chiefs of his party.

The national administration apparently will be played down at the editors' gathering, which, in reality, is a rally of politicians to kick off the fall mayor elections.

National chiefs will be conspicuous by their absence. The banquet orator will be a "home state boy," Richard B. Stoner, Indiana national committeeman, and the speaker at the editors' luncheon will be Irving Leibowitz, former managing editor of the erstwhile Indianapolis Times who now is editor of the Journal, Lorain, Ohio.

Stoner maintains that he was chosen because he is about the only prominent Democrat who is not running for governor. Governor Branigin is said to hope that Stoner changes his mind.

Three leaders are considered to be sure contestants for governor. They are Lt. Gov. Robert L. Rock, Anderson; Richard C. Bodine, Mishawaka, House minority floor leader, and atty. Gen. John J. Dillon, Indianapolis.

Possible other aspirants are former Gov. Matthew E. Welsh, Indianapolis and Vincennes; Robert A. O'Neal, Indianapolis, state police superintendent; Evansville Mayor Frank F. McDonald, and Terre Haute Mayor Ralph Tucker, who was the losing gubernatorial nominee in 1956.

Scots welcome queen

ABERDEEN, Scotland UPI — There will always be an England even in Scotland Dept.:

Queen Elizabeth II and her family arrived for their summer vacation at Balmoral Castle in heavy rain but the monarch told her welcome. "It's so nice to be here. The weather doesn't really matter."

Many species of wildlife almost extinct

NEW YORK UPI — The last survivor of the billions of passenger pigeons died recently in an Ohio zoo. Ever since, conservationists have been increasingly concerned with the threat to the continued existence of American wild life.

Some time ago a British group urged Queen Elizabeth and Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy to stop wearing their leopard coats before that beautiful species became a victim of high fashion. NBC-TV doesn't plan anything that personal in the new season but it has two documentaries under way to remind us that we are supposed to preserve for the future the animal heritage handed down from the past.

But will we? The title of producer Chet Hagen's "Our Endangered Wild Life" is ominous and it is intended to be. A bit more hopeful is producer Gerry Greene's "Forgotten Peninsula" about lower California where isolation and some intelligent intervention by the Mexican government may have saved the bird sanctuary, the island of Rosa, from the fishermen who were stealing its eggs.

Meters jammed

SAN FRANCISCO UPI — Those nonreturnable beer cans are worth a nickel after all—when the "snap tab" opening rings are inserted into parking meters.

London N. Casassa, acting San Francisco tax collector, said 5,754 meters were jammed with the rings last month and coin collectors retrieved about 15 pounds of the devices.

Casassa, who said about 1,000 culprits have been caught and punished by fines up to $50, has a solution: he is asking manufacturers to change the size of the rings.

Hagen started out originally to work on the Department of Interior's list of 78 threatened species of animals and fish and found himself tangled in even more serious problems. For the fate of U.S. wild life may depend on our spreading population and the eventual decision as to whether, as Hagen puts it, "we can afford the luxury of maintaining the undeveloped areas these animals need."

Hagen's Sept. 29 broadcast in the "Tomorrow's World" series will show such dwindling species as the timberwolf, the tiny Florida Key deer, the bald eagle—our national bird, the grizzly bear, the California condor, the American alligator and the Florida manatee among others.

"We will also," he said, "tell the story of the whooping crane which is the classic conservation story—the joint operation by America and Canada, that saved the bird from extinction. And from Isle Royale in Michigan we've got film of a herd of moose which grew to 4,000 because of the absence of natural predators, ate everything in sight and starved almost overnight to 200. Then wolves came over the ice from Canada in 1948 and now there is a healthy natural balance of 800 moose and 28 wolves—wolves kill only the old, the sick and the weak."

Conservation is only incidental to Greene's forgotten peninsula which is scheduled for a Dec. 8 showing. This is the third program Greene, writer of a number of best sellers, has based on the books of Joseph Wood Krutch who was his professor at Columbia and is today an elder statesman of American letters. Greene's technique is simply to see whether he can film what Krutch has written about and then have the author narrate in his own "felicitous literary style."
